Michael Reuben, DC, CVCP, CVNT

Dr. Michael Reuben completed his undergraduate studies with a B.A. in Biology from California State University - Northridge in 1979. He graduated Cum Laude from Cleveland Chiropractic College in 1983 with a B.S. in Human Biology and a Doctor of Chiropractic Degree. He concentrated his practice in sports medicine, athletic training, and rehabilitation for over 20 years, holding professional licensure in both California and Colorado. He also became a State Certified Disability Evaluator and Qualified Medical Examiner. Dr. Reuben became a certified Equine Chiropractor in 2004, and his practice for the human athlete rapidly took a back seat to his practice for the equine athlete. Dr. Reuben enjoys outdoor activities including backpacking, climbing, horseback riding (of course), mountain biking, any kind of exploring, and doing fun stuff with his 12 year-old daughter, Lauren. Dr. Reuben lectures and holds clinical demonstrations at many barns and stables, and has been known to be not only quite informative, but entertaining as well. This is possibly due to Dr. Reuben having spent some of his youth performing stand-up comedy and acting in improvisational theatre.
